Meet Your Masterpiece

Ladies and gentlemen and everyone in between,

We're proud to present to you this LEGO® masterpiece in craft and innovation.

Carefully designed from nearly 4000 (3662) individual pieces, the LEGO Grand Piano is a feat of ingenuity.

With this intricate instrument, you can build a crescendo of creativity. One brick and one note at a time. Because today, you are the maestro. You are center stage, and this is your time to play.

So, without further ado, please, put your bricks together for your masterpiece.

Bravo, from our fan designer Donny Chen and all of us at the LEGO Group.

“ Music gives a soul to the universe. ”
Plato

A grand piano is positioned on a light-colored wooden stage in a large, empty concert hall. The piano is dark and its lid is open. To the right of the piano is a black, tufted piano stool. The audience seating, consisting of rows of red seats, is visible in the background, arranged in a semi-circular pattern. The stage is illuminated by warm, yellow light, and the ceiling features recessed lighting. The overall atmosphere is quiet and contemplative.

“ Music is a higher revelation than all wisdom and philosophy. ”

Ludwig van Beethoven

“ Music is the universal language of mankind. ”
Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Meet the Maestro

Hello, my name is Donny Chen and I'm the designer behind the LEGO® Ideas Grand Piano. Originally from Guangzhou, China, I now work as a piano teacher and tuner in Australia.

I've always seen toys as something to be imagined, not just played with.

When I was a child, I liked to build toys from scratch. I was fascinated with toy cars, construction toys and anything with a mechanical element to it. For me, the joy was in the endless possibilities of creating.

“ I think that my piano set is a unique LEGO® creation, which will be loved by people of all ages, especially music lovers around the world. I really hope you like it as much as I do. ”

Donny Chen

Growing up in China, LEGO bricks weren't easy to get hold of.

I was 25 years old when I bought my first set 8 years ago, and it hasn't stopped surprising me since. Although I was a latecomer to LEGO toys, I've since fallen in love with the bricks and it's now my biggest hobby by far, aside from music. In fact, I've even created a model of my own home, including five pianos.

This build brought together my two greatest passions in life.

When I'm not building with LEGO bricks, I'm teaching, tuning or writing music on my piano. So, when I first discovered LEGO Ideas, I knew I wanted to build something that could make the musical and LEGO worlds come together.

I'm as interested in how a piano works as the music it makes.

I've always been fascinated with the mechanics of how things work and the engineering behind great pianos. As a teacher, I also have to explain what goes on beneath the lid to my students. This model seemed like a great way to show them on a smaller scale.

I worked every day for six weeks to make the model as accurate as possible.

It was really important to me that it felt real, that it worked and looked as close to a life-sized piano as possible. It took at least 15 hours to achieve that authenticity and make sure the keyboard, bench, damper, pedals and piano player function all worked like the real thing.

Not everything went 100% according to plan.

There were a few hiccups during the design process, particularly with the fall board (the lid that covers the keys). I must have changed the design four times until I got it right. In the end, I was happy that it closed, felt and worked exactly like a working piano. But of course, making the LEGO® Grand Piano playable was my main focus when I designed it, and at the same time, the most challenging part of the build.

When Donny came to Billund and visited the Ideas team...

...we arranged a surprise for him so he could meet a couple of his LEGO designer role models. To Donny's delight, some of his favorite designers surprised him by bursting in on a meeting, and then proceeded to discuss the fine details of his model. He later met with the LEGO Ideas team and Woon Tze, who was the main LEGO designer for the project.

Woon Tze Chee

My wife plays and teaches the piano and was my inspiration to work on this project. Over the years, she has been very understanding and supportive of my LEGO® hobby and our move to Denmark, so I felt very happy and lucky that I got to work on a project that supports her main hobby. This was truly a great way to bring our individual passions for music and LEGO toys together. This is my way of saying thank you to her.

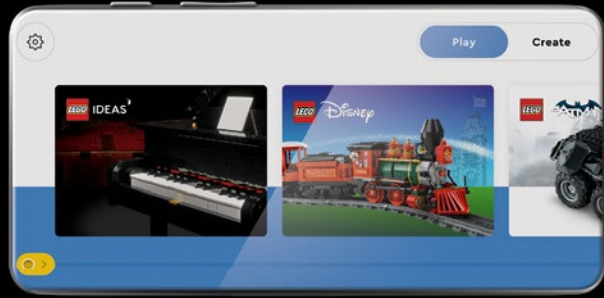

I was impressed when I first saw the model on LEGO Ideas. Donny did an amazing job with all the details and functionality. We tried to keep the model as authentic as possible. Although small, the model is as much an engineering challenge as a real piano and all the components are so interconnected that any slight modification in one section will cause a chain reaction in another. By striving for the strictest of LEGO quality, we hope fans will have a great building experience.

Steen Sig Andersen

I was asked to help out with the concept model and once I saw it, I gladly took the task. It was such a cool model with some interesting challenges. From the very beginning, there was a huge excitement from all sides; tech, design and marketing, because here we had the opportunity to make something really special. For me personally, it was the challenge of turning a very cool fan model into a proof-of-concept model, especially the play mechanism which I was delighted to work on.

What I love most about the model is the fact that you can 'play' on the piano, and the functions are similar to the ones on a real piano.
